The Master's degree in Health and Biotechnology Law is organized at the Evry site and allows students to specialize with a view to quickly integrating into the world of health law. The Master's degree is open to work-study programs and, in addition to the days reserved for theoretical and practical teaching, allows students to join a company with a mission related to the courses taken.

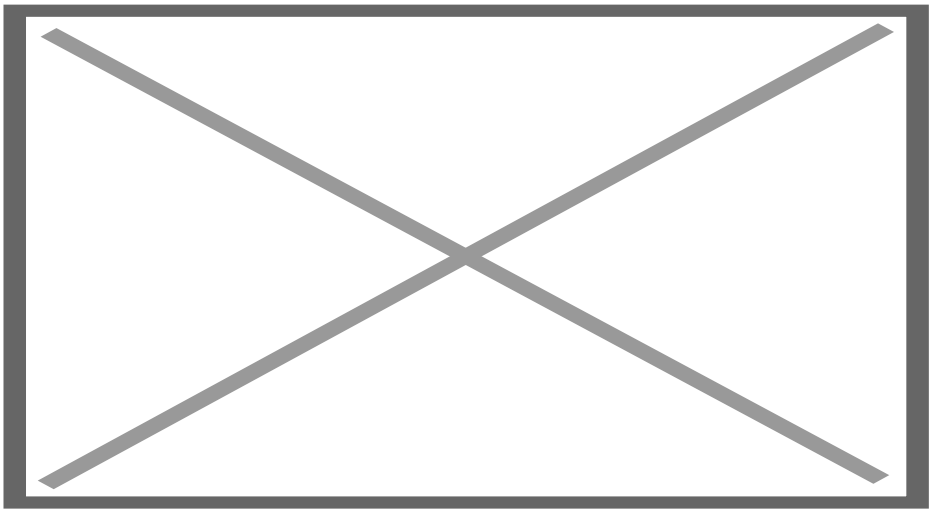

The Master 2 aims to give students the methodological and disciplinary skills essential for practicing professions in the health system and the pharmaceutical industry, and those linked to medical research, particularly in the field of biotechnologies, its financing and the valorization of its results.
